Cycle Challenge USA / Bici Sin Rodilla 2008

Between March and October 2008, Lisa Tylee did a sponsored cycle challenge, by cycling approx 8473 miles around the USA. Besides raising funds, Veniños aims to raise awareness of the lives of street and shanty town children. In order to complete the challenge, Lisa spent at least 171 days on her bike, cycling an average of 50 miles a day. Her journey took her through 24 states plus Washington DC. What makes this particularly impressive is that Lisa cycled with one leg as she was born with no knee in her left leg.

A fundraising event was planned for her arrival to New Jersey and Pennsylvania where she gave talks to schools, corporate and community groups. Money raised will go to community education projects supported by Veniños - Venezuelan Children in Need.
